About WCG

WCG brings over 30 years of experience in designing, implementing, and enhancing client pathways to employment across Canada. Since 2018, WCG has operated as the Canadian subsidiary of APM Group, a global leader in employment and health services. APM supports over 2.1 million people annually in 11 countries, including Australia, the United Kingdom, Germany, Sweden, South Korea, Singapore, and the United States—delivering programs that often serve those facing the greatest barriers to employment. As part of this international network, WCG applies global insights and best practices to strengthen service delivery in Canada.

WCG plays a central role in Ontario's Employment Services Transformation as a Service System Manager (SSM), responsible for delivering Integrated Employment Services (IES). Since 2020, WCG has managed employment services in the Peel catchment area as one of the province's original three prototype SSMs. Building on this foundation, WCG has since expanded its leadership role to the York, Ottawa, and Toronto regions.

Across all catchments, WCG coordinates a network of more than 90 Employment Service Provider subcontractors, fostering a local ecosystem focused on achieving sustainable employment outcomes. The organization prioritizes support for individuals with complex employment barriers while also helping employers meet their workforce needs.

Through strategic partnerships, evidence-based practices, and a commitment to measurable outcomes, WCG aligns with the Ontario government's vision for a modern, inclusive, and results-driven employment services system.

2. Program Overview

2.1 Vision

To deliver a locally responsive, client-centered employment services model that improves outcomes for job seekers, employers, and communities across Ontario for ODSP recipients.

2.2 Goals

The primary goals of the Employment Services system are to:

- Provide comprehensive employment services that lead to sustainable employment.
- Ensure employment services are responsive to local community needs.
- Increase labour market attachment for individuals receiving income support.
- Align employment services with the skills training system.
- Establish and maintain a competitive, accountable, and sustainable employment services system

2.3 Inclusion Groups

Services should be tailored to support:

- Indigenous persons
- Youth with higher support needs
- Newcomers
- Persons with disabilities (self-identified)
- Francophone
- Racialized clients

3. Service Delivery Model and Service Expectations

WCG have developed the My EO Service Delivery Model to provide a client-centric approach to meet the needs of each client. It places the client at the centre of their journey focusing on 'what clients can do' rather than segregating services based on barriers. The model is based on the assessment of individual need to support the quickest route back to sustainable employment.

Our five phases of successful service delivery are an easy way to define and remember each phase of the client lifecycle. Our goal is always the most efficient pathway to sustainable employment.

Table 1.0 Service delivery phase descriptions

Phase	Description
Engage	Service coordination and referrals into Integrated Employment Services across the region. The objective is to achieve the client volume commitments for each client stream and inclusion groups.
Explore	Standardized intake process, including the Common Assessment and the collaborative development of an individualized Employment Action Plan, which captures the activities, goals, and pre-employment services required to progress the client towards employment.
Progress	Services will be delivered through regular contact appointments. The focus is on improving the client's job readiness for current labour market opportunities, progressing them towards their employment goal.
Start	This phase begins when the client secures employment and provides supports to transition into employment and manage barriers. A retention assessment is completed to ensure supports are in place to achieve employment milestones.
Succeed	Services to assist with succeeding in work, career development, and crisis response, when needed. Retention services include monitoring checkpoints and ongoing supports to achieve the next employment milestone.
